

{I have taken the liberty of changing the original positions of A-H and N-U. Dr. Graves realized at a point in the seventies that he had made a mistake on the original drawings (figure 1 and others) in that he had placed the N-U on the horizontal axis and the A-H on the vertical axis. The correct positioning is this: the existential problems, A-H, on the horizontal axis trigger/activate the N-U neurological systems on the vertical axis.}

Figure 1

Emergence of the Existential States from the Growth of the Mutual Components with the Solution of Existential Problems and Opening of Higher Neurological Systems

